ALL NATURAL HEMP BEDDING FOR MORE COMFORT AND A HEALTHIER BARN ENVIRONMENT

Aubiose Hemp Bedding is a completely different type of bedding and should provide you with savings in time and labour if it is managed properly. The bedding works by soaking up liquids in a small area, at the base of the bed. The capped layer that forms over this saturated material reduces the chance of wet bedding being mixed in with the dry. The top layer of the bed remains warm, soft and dry for your horse.

Aubiose Hemp bedding is highly absorbent (up to 5x more absorbent than other bedding materials), virtually dust-free, and results in less waste. Ideal for wet & messy horses, and particularly those with allergies and respiratory sensitivities, the Aubiose brand (registered in 1985), is the benchmark & standard against which others are compared. Known for its quality and effectiveness throughout Europe, Aubiose is chemical free and composts readily without the need for added composting agents. Hence, farmers and gardeners are enamored by the golden compost it produces. Aubiose Hemp Bedding is now available in the United States through EnviroEquine & Pet.
